CHARGE ACCOUNTS

In order for Traction Tire, LLC to extend credit, credit card information must be provided. Please fill out the attached credit card authorization form.

Traction Tire, LLC also uses Experian Credit Services to aid in making responsible credit decisions. Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA), businesses that do not have a credit relationship with their customer may request consumer credit information based upon receipt of the consumer's written instructions. Business owner profiles and Premier Profile Reports obtained for the purpose of mitigation of financial risk will be used solely in connection with a current commercial (i.e. not for personal, family or household purposes) financial risk assessment involving the individual/business on whom such information is sought, and only if the individual has provided written authorization to access his or her personal consumer report. Each request for one of the above products will appear on the subject's Individual Experian consumer report and the name and address of your business will be available to such individual.

All charge invoices are due for payment by the tenth of the following month, unless otherwise stated by invoice's terms.

Should a customer exceed their designated credit limit, a reducing payment will be required to continue charge privileges for that month. Otherwise, any subsequent purchases will be delivered strictly on a COD basis.

Accounts for which payments have not been received by the end of the following month will incur finance charges equal to one and one-half percent per month (annual percentage rate of 18%) of such unpaid balance. It is understood Traction Tire, LLC shall apply all remittances to outstanding finance charges first and then the remainder to the oldest open invoice.

It is understood that Traction Tire, LLC shall deliver strictly on a COD basis if any payment has not been received by the first date of the following month, which shall include monthly finance charges, or amounts over the allowed credit limit as determined by Traction Tire, LLC until such balance has been cleared or paid in full. In the event of non-payment, Traction Tire, LLC is authorized to charge the credit card on file for all past due amounts.

In the event legal action or collection activity by an outside agency is required to collect any outstanding balance, the customer will be liable for all attorney costs, court costs, and all other costs related thereto.
